

Summary

Technology Advantage:

- Companies with unique technology that cannot be replicated quickly can produce better products or operate more efficiently than competitors.
- Example: Google's search engine algorithm, which is difficult and costly for competitors to replicate.

Management Influence:

- Top executives and board members can enhance a company's image and attract more capital.

Brand Value:

- A company's brand is valuable if it allows selling at a premium or selling more.

Intangible Resources:

- Assets like secret recipes and intellectual property rights provide product differentiation benefits.

