

In bank Nifty Weightage

So, you must keep track of the performance of the major constituents. You can check the Nifty Indices website or other popular websites to check the biggest movers. Studying these movements and checking if the constituents with the highest weights make significant movements will help you develop a sound view.

Nifty Indices Website

Note that most NSE stock indices' lists of constituents and weights are updated quarterly or semi-annually. You needn't check the list of constituents constantly.