

Shunosaurus

SHOE-noe-SORE-us

This powerful sauropod was very good at defending itself from attackers. It was first discovered in China in 1977.

Don't get too close or I'll WHACK you with my tail!

Odd one out

Like all sauropods, Shunosaurus had a long neck and tail, but its neck was shorter than other sauropods. This means it might have eaten from shorter trees than its relatives.

104

251 million years ago

200

145

66

Triassic

Jurassic

Cretaceous

Fact File