

world

If you could use a time machine to visit the age of the dinosaurs, you might think that you had arrived on an alien planet. The Earth has changed so much since dinosaurs were alive, that it almost seems like a completely different world!

