

Eoraptor

EE-oh-RAP-tor

One of the earliest dinosaurs, Eoraptor was about the same size as a small dog. Unlike most friendly pets – it was a fierce hunter.

Eoraptor could see well in almost all directions, which would have been great for spotting prey.

My blade-like teeth would have easily sliced through meat, but some scientists think I might have eaten plants, too.

Dawn of the dinosaurs

The name Eoraptor means “dawn thief” because it was alive at the beginning, or dawn, of the age of the dinosaurs.

Sharp claws

122

251 million years ago

200

145

66

Triassic

Jurassic

Cretaceous

Fact File