

Every type of fossil is rare as they take millions of years to form.

Heterodontosaurus cast found in sandstone

Insects or other small animals that became stuck in sticky tree sap have been found totally preserved in amber (fossilized tree resin).

Sometimes, all that remains of a creature is their footprints, teeth, or poo. These are known as trace fossils.