

First fossil finds

For a very long time, people had no idea that dinosaurs ever existed. But that all changed when people began studying fossils.

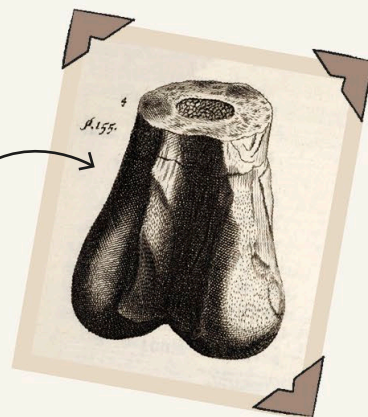

This bone is huge!
What kind of creature
could it belong to?

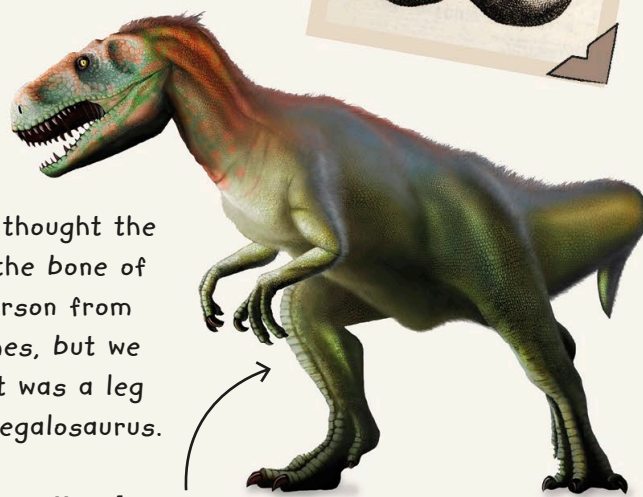

A giant mystery

In 1677, when Robert Plot was working in a museum in Oxford, England, he came across a giant fossil bone. He compared the bone to different animals, but they were all the wrong shape and size.
