

4 The fossil is packed up and sent to a laboratory to be studied or to a museum for display.

Fossils are rare and delicate, so palaeontologists have to be VERY CAREFUL when they work with them.

Some bones are too heavy or delicate to display, so copies are sometimes made from fibreglass.

