

► BRODERIE PERSE

Persian embroidery, or broderie perse, is a technique in which motifs are cut from one printed fabric and applied to a different background. Several motifs, not necessarily from the same fabric, can be layered and rearranged to create a new design.

- 1 Cut out the motif with a generous 6mm (¼in) seam allowance. Clip any curves inside the seam allowance. If there are areas that are too small to cut away, leave the background fabric in place.

- 2 Pin the motif in position on the background and tack it 1.2cm (½in) inside the outline. For narrow areas such as stems, tack along the centre. Trim outside seam allowances to reduce bulk wherever possible.

- 3 Using the needle tip, turn the seam allowance under and blind stitch the motif to the background, using thread to match the motif, or use a decorative stitch and contrasting thread as shown.

- 4 This appliqué technique allows you to make a small piece of expensive printed fabric go a long way, as individual motifs can be applied over a larger and less costly background fabric.
