

Press the seams towards the quarter-square triangles

13 To make the second sashing, lay one of the remaining horizontal sashings horizontally right side up, with the blue triangles along the top edge. With right sides together, pin a quarter-square triangle to each end of the sashing, so the small pale green triangles adjoin the sashing. Pin the aqua triangle at the end of the remaining horizontal sashing to the small pale green triangle on the right-hand edge of the quarter-square triangle. Stitch, leaving a 1cm ($\frac{3}{8}$ in) seam allowance. Press the seams towards the small quarter-square triangles.

14 With right sides together and leaving a 1cm ($\frac{3}{8}$ in) seam allowance, pin and stitch the small pale green triangles of the remaining three quarter-square triangles to the raw ends of all three horizontal sashings. Press the seams towards the quarter-square triangles. Note: the image shows the final quarter-square triangle being pinned to either the first or third horizontal sashing.

15 With right sides together, pin the first and second horizontal sashings to the long edges of one of the patchwork rectangles made in Step 7. Place the blue triangles so they adjoin the blue square and the aqua triangles so they adjoin the aqua square. Stitch, matching seams and leaving a 1cm ($\frac{3}{8}$ in) seam allowance. Press the seams away from the sashings.

16 With right sides together, pin the lower edge of the second sashing and one long edge of the third sashing to the long edges of the remaining patchwork rectangle. Place the aqua triangles so they adjoin the aqua square and the blue triangles so they adjoin the blue square. Stitch, matching seams and leaving a 1cm ($\frac{3}{8}$ in) seam allowance. Press the seams away from the sashings. The centre block of the cushion cover is now complete.
