

DRESDEN PLATE CUSHION

This round cushion features a traditional Dresden plate patchwork block. Many variations of the Dresden plate block exist, but this one is a multi-petalled flower. Once the “plate” is complete, it is hand-sewn to the front of the cushion.

DIFFICULTY LEVEL

Medium

SIZE

38cm (15in) in diameter x 10cm (4in) deep

TOOLS AND MATERIALS

Tracing paper
Measuring tape
Pencil
Pins
Threads to match your fabrics
Sewing machine
Scissors
Iron and ironing board
Sewing needle

FABRICS

50 x 85cm (20 x 33½in) plain white fabric for the circle for the cushion front and for the two semicircles for the cushion back

A selection of seven patterned blue fabrics for the petals and the flower centre
24 x 62cm (9½ x 24½in) blue fabric, cut into two rectangles, each 12 x 62cm (4¾ x 24½in) for the cushion sides
Toy filling, wadding, or a 38cm (15in) diameter x 10cm (4in) deep round cushion pad

SKILLS

Chain piecing (see p.61)
Curves and fans (see pp.84–85)

SEAM ALLOWANCE

6mm (¼in) throughout, unless otherwise stated

PATTERN

1 Using the template on page 215, cut two petals from each of six differently patterned blue fabrics, giving a total of 12 petals. Arrange the petals in a circle, with matching petals directly opposite each other, as shown. Cut the remaining pieces for the cushion using the templates and instructions on page 215.

2 Fold the wider end of each petal in half, right side to right side, and pin. Chain piece all the petals together (see p.61).

Snip off the corners on the folded side

3 Cut the petals apart and snip off the inside, folded corner of each petal.