

LOG CABIN CUSHION

This cushion uses four log cabin blocks, each with light fabrics radiating from one corner, and dark fabrics from the other. This light and dark contrast is traditional in log cabin blocks, and the greater the contrast, the more dramatic the effect.

PATTERN

1 Cut your fabric pieces to size, starting with a 4.5cm (1¾in) square for the centre of each block. Cut each strip to 4.5cm (1¾in) wide by the required length (see p.35).

3 Repeat to create four identical blocks. Use your quilter's ruler to square up the block and trim off any uneven or untidy edges.

2 Create a block following the instructions on page 92. With right sides together, join piece A to piece B, then continue adding the pieces in order until the block is complete. Press the seams as you work (see pp.42–43).

4 Arrange the four blocks as you would like them to appear on the cushion front. Here a traditional light and dark colour contrast has been used, but you can choose any arrangement you wish for your cushion (see p.77).
