

5 Cut the first pieced strip into 6.5cm (2½in) segments on a 45-degree angle. Cut until the entire strip has been cut (see p.101, Step 2).

6 Cut the second pieced strip in the same way, but changing the direction of the angle to the opposite way (see p.101, Step 3).

7 Lay out 19 cut pieces, alternating one from each directional group, to create the chevron pattern.

8 Pin and sew the pieces together in pairs. Then, pin and sew the pairs and extra piece together to create one long strip.

9 Press the seams open at the back of the pieced chevron strip.

10 Trim off the pointed edges of the chevron strip to even both edges (see p.101, Step 5). Make sure to trim each edge the same amount, so that the chevron design is centred in the strip.
