

KANTHA STITCH THROW

Made from snugly flannel, this throw is perfect for chilly evenings. You can design and stitch any pattern you wish. Here we've quilted a geometric pattern with borders around it. Be sure to mark the whole design before you begin sewing.

DIFFICULTY LEVEL

Easy

SIZE

118 x 163cm (46½ x 64in)

TOOLS AND MATERIALS

Scissors

Curved safety pins

Card

Pencil

Spray bottle or sponge

Rotary cutter

Cutting mat

Quilter's ruler

Water-soluble pen

Roll of 2.5cm (1in) masking tape

Large-eyed needle

Five different-coloured embroidery,
or quilting, threads

Sewing machine (optional)

Thread to match the main fabric

Sewing needle

FABRIC

200 x 275cm (78 x 108in) of flannel for the main fabric front, back, and binding
123 x 165cm (48 x 65in) wadding

SKILLS

Hand quilting (see pp.132–133)

SEAM ALLOWANCE

Hand quilt following the pattern

PATTERN

MAKE THE QUILT SANDWICH

Cut two pieces of main fabric both 120 x 165cm (47 x 65in). Lay one piece right side down, then lay the wadding to fit on top of it. Lay the other main fabric piece right side up on top so all the edges are even. Smooth all the layers from the centre outwards and once smooth, use curved safety pins to pin the layers together (see p.44).

MARK THE DESIGN

Measure and mark the centre of the quilt sandwich. Using the templates on page 214 and a water-soluble pen, mark the pattern on the front of the quilt sandwich. Use the masking tape to mark the borders and your quilter's ruler to make sure everything is sitting even and square with one another. If you are unhappy with the design at any point, use water to remove the pen and begin again.

QUILT THE PATTERN

Working from the centre outwards and readjusting the safety pins as needed, begin to quilt the pattern using stab stitch (see p.41) and the colours indicated on the diagram. Bury the knots in the fabric at the back to hide them (see p.132). Cut a piece of embroidery thread long enough to sew each shape. Remove any safety pins that fall within the quilted sections as you work, but leave the pins around the edges. Remove the masking tape when you are done.

ATTACH THE BINDING

Trim the edges of the quilt square with each other and the stitching. Cut and piece together a binding strip 6.5 x 585cm (2½ x 230in), (see pp.46–47). Attach the strip using the double-fold binding method (see p.51).

PATTERN LAYOUT

Keep the stitches the same size as you work, so that every shape is uniform in appearance. Bury the knots in the fabric, always at the back of the quilt.