CHERYL OWEN

Cheryl is an innovative and experienced crafter. Having originally trained and worked in the fashion industry, Cheryl went on to apply her design and making skills to the fields of craft, especially sewing, paper crafts, and making jewellery. She is the author of more than 40 craft books, designs craft kits, and is a regular contributor of craft features to leading magazines and partworks. Cheryl made the simple squares tote (see pp.154–159) and triangle floor cushion (see pp.160–167).

SABI WESTOBY

Having been a traditional quilter for many years, retirement from full-time work in 2008 led to a change in direction and Sabi now makes art quilts and mixed media works. Combining paper and textile, paint and stitch, collage and appliqué, Sabi creates works inspired by both the natural and human-made worlds. Sabi is excited by the challenge of embracing new techniques and exploring unknown materials, which can be dyed, printed, manipulated, burnt or stitched. She likes to create fabrics in vibrant colours and overprint them with her own designs. Sabi made the flying geese quilt (see pp.210–213).

MICHAEL CAPUTO, CONSULTANT

Michael Caputo was born and raised in New York, US. As a design graduate of the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City, Michael has been using his skills to design and engineer children's pop-up books since he graduated from university.

Initially taught to quilt by his mother, Michael uses his background in colour theory and layout to create one-of-a-kind quilts. Exploring different methods and techniques, Michael continues to quilt on a daily basis. He taught quilting classes in London for several years and currently lives with his family in Raleigh, North Carolina, US.
