

3.3

Standalone vs Consolidated Financial Statements

Many companies report two sets of Financial Statements in their Annual Reports - Standalone and Consolidated Financial Statements. First, let's understand the difference between the two of them. We may ask, why will a company need two different financial statements?

Let us learn more about them.

So the only companies that have subsidiaries, joint ventures etc report two sets of Financial Statements. Companies that own no subsidiary report only one set of Financial Statements.

Standalone
Financial Statement

+ All other businesses

Consolidated
Financial Statement