

First, we will discuss the absolute basics, like what is fundraising, what things to expect, and what investors expect from you.

Lastly we will discuss around pitch deck, pitching and every other step in a step by step manner.

The second part will mostly revolve around expectations like what exactly the investors are looking for and what type of companies they prefer investing in (different types of investors invest in different type of companies based on their investment philosophy.),

In the third section, we will discuss how to prepare and reach out to different investors.

This book is not just a simple walk-through. There is no guarantee that you will get an investor if you follow each of these steps. As discussed earlier, if ten people follow the exact process, only one or two people will succeed and get funds for t lucky few people, only one of them w they wanted from the beginning.

F

ks