

Capitalism- Capital To Most Efficient Use

In a capitalistic society, capital is to be put to the most efficient use. While you put your heart and soul into the business, for the investor, similar 10 companies approach them daily. Logically as well, capital should flow to the most deserving businesses i.e. put to most efficient use.

In a capitalistic society, be prepared for lot of rejections as the math is against you. However you are looking for one yes.

While you put your heart and soul into the business, for the investor, similar 10 companies approach him daily.

Thus, since the investor has a lot of options, you have to be amongst the top few in order to attract their interest and eventually capital. You need to justify your investment case.

F

ks