

They know you without your business and have trust in YOU

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

The second group, after or even alongside your friends and family, are the people you know. They will typically come in after you have made a little bit of progress, but they still know you and trust you. However, you can only talk to them after making some progress. You still do not need very high traction yet, talking to them under Day 0 will not materialize to anything meaningful.

At this stage, the idea is still young and immature. But these people will back you based on who you are. These will include your past colleagues, neighbours, people you know, socially etc. Not being professional investors, their investment in you will depend on the equation you have with them. They will invest in you if they believe in you as a person and an entrepreneur.

These two groups are the first set of people you approach. They but they will help you when est based on the trust they have in you rather than your business and traction.
