

03 ASK FOR RECOMMENDATIONS

You can ask for recommendations from peers or other founders. You can directly build on the introduction over email or WhatsApp. Also, here you will have a warm introduction as compared to cold messaging.

Ya sure, I've already told him about your startup, he seems interested.
* is his WhatsApp number, you can text him directly.

Hi,
We are looking to fund raise for our edtech startup, and are pitching for the same to Mr. X who is also one of your friends. If possible can you recommend us to him?

04 GO TO MEET

The last and the best case scenario is when you can go to meet the investors in person. If possible, you can meet the investor directly. This makes the investor much more comfortable than a simple phone call.

Meeting the investor in person allows you more time and space to build trust. However, it is not always possible to meet as they may reside in far off places or you might have to pitch the
