

7. SHOW PROOF THAT IT WORKS -TRACTION

After you have explained your solution to the problem, you need to prove that your solution is actually working. Here proof mentality is required. You have to explain what kind of traction you have. Traction convinces the investor that your business idea is working and, with capital, it can be scaled up in the future. You can explain the different KPIs that you track, sales figures, or any other achievements in the pitch deck.

8. COMPETITION AND DIFFERENTIATION

You have to explain the competitive landscape. Who are the different companies in the same space and why exactly are you better than others? Do not explain ten things about why you are better, only share two or three differentiated points. You don't really need to say a lot of things at this stage. Just focus on key differentiation. Detailed analysis can be done during further discussions.
