

PICTORIAL REPRESENTATION OF THE PROBLEM STATEMENT

Spend time going through the popular pitch decks to learn how to explain simple things pictorially. The more pictorial representation you use, the better it is. This is because the investor will only scan through your entire presentation in a couple of minutes. Words require time to read. However, pictorial representation makes it quicker.

more the pictorial representation, the better

Suppose, instead of explaining the information visually, you write it down in different points with various sub-points each. So the investor will have to read 8 to 9 lines which will take approximately 30 seconds for each slide. G
