

Simply speaking, if you cannot convince them of any of these three factors mentioned above, you won't be able to secure the funds. Most business deals only pass through if the investors are satisfied with these three points.

So these are the fundamental points on which the entire book is based. What you have to do is make the investors confident about your Idea, product, the market and you (and your team). Once this happens, you will be able to attract capital.

What is Fundraise? What do you get?

scare you. We are trying to possible so that you do not ations.

F

KS