

TOO LOOOOONG PITCH

No investor would want to go through a long first document and then a one-hour pitch. You need to remember that you only need to convey important information to the investor. Do not over-communicate; do not make the pitch deck too long and use up their time.

TEXT HEAVY SLIDES

Just imagine a slide with data all across the page. Investors are unlikely to go through these text-heavy slides. Instead of entering too much information, you can picture

Remember, the investor does not have 15-20 minutes to read everything. Thus, ensure that your pitch deck does not have very text heavy slides.
