

Also, not every investor will ask for all the documents each investor requires a different comfort level

Besides these documents, the investors might ask you a few questions to get clarification. Many investors also observe a business for a few months (2-6 months). Depending on the progress, they might take a call if they want to invest. Also, these documents are not legally binding. This is your best guess of future. Details may change as ow.

F

ks