

PATANJALI®

boAt

PARLE

B2C

OLA

N

For example, if a company is product based and more inclined towards B2B, then you can place them in quadrant 2. You can also place your company at one point in the graph. You can create multiple graphs like this to explain the position of your competitors, or you can simply write them down.

This will help the investors understand who your rival companies are and how you are placed against them.

F

ks