

Also, you need to offer an attractive appreciation in capital for investors excited. That is why 8X-12X in this case.

Anything less than that won't work for the investors. If they do not make money from successful companies, their math will not work.

From the investors' perspective, 6-7 companies out of every 10 do not make any money. So, they need to compensate their time and investments with companies that are successful and do make money.

F

ks

