

05 TEAM FORMATION

The investors can also help you develop a good team. An investor is not only investing in your company but also connected to various other companies and businesses. So they know numerous people from multiple companies.

So these companies will have similar functions, they can always ask for recommendations or leads particularly for senior talent from people these companies.

