

We have discussed the entire fundraising process and how to be best prepared. This process is prone to many rejections at different stages, even after doing all work and answering all questions. The investor might decline even after 4-5 months of follow-up. Thus, the process needs to be repeated multiple times. What is important is to convince only 1-2 of those 50-60 investors you come across.

F

ks