

SUMMING UP...

With this, we have understood the following aspects:

With this, you understand your strengths and weaknesses. You understand where exactly you are in your journey. Again, these are no rules. Investors fund companies that perform poorly on all the points discussed and also at times do not fund companies that are doing well. However, there is a general increase in the amount of initial capital.

Let's now move to the next section.