

According to statistics, only one out of 10 start-ups that go out looking for funds raises their first round.

Simply speaking the probability of raising capital is against you.

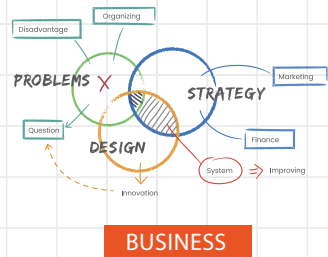

SUCCESS FOR FUNDRAISING DEPENDS UPON:

YOU AS AN ENTREPRENEUR

MARKET

Your ability to raise capital, particularly in initial stages will depend on: You as an entrepreneur and the confidence that you are able to create a market that your business is profitable and lastly the business - its differentiation, strategy, etc. We will discuss these in greater detail going ahead.
