

Sustaining Innovation

Sustaining innovation is done within the same value chain that the industry works on. Sustaining Innovation leads to better products, advanced technology, and better raw materials.

Sustaining innovation strategy is at the core of iPhone's success.

Sustaining innovation is the way firms within an industry compete.

Some sustaining innovations are incremental year-by-year improvements, which all good companies grind out.

Other sustaining innovations are breakthrough innovations, wherein the product leapfrogs beyond the competition's products.^[21]
