

Before getting into any industry one should have an understanding of the current government's attitude towards the particular industry.

Entrepreneurs and investors must know about special taxes and subsidies affecting their industries.