

Other industry-specific regulations

Various other industry-specific measures and regulations need to be followed, to operate in the industry.

Many industries need their products and machines to be quality-and-standards-compliant.

Many industries need their premises to be compulsorily fire-compliant.

other industries may have specific labour laws.

Diamond and Textile Industry

Such laws and regulations that are specific to the industry must be understood by entrepreneurs and business managers.

GST had been introduced by the government on goods and services which acts as a central mechanism for collection of taxes. Every entrepreneur needs to know the GST bracket where their products and purchases fall.