

Industry Investment Requirements

Different industries have different investment requirements based on their characteristics.

- Working capital heavy
- High fixed capital investments.
- Very low investments.

→ Such businesses scale very quickly.

This stage is one of the most critical stages when attempting to understand any particular business. This four-tiered structure is equally valid for those looking to invest in businesses as well as those looking to start their own business. Such an analysis can be of great help to even those who are already running businesses of any kind.
