

Customer Profile

The first step after identifying the potential customer segments is to create each customer segment's profile. Creating a customer profile requires the investor to wear many hats.

Entrepreneur/Investor

Identify the different customer segments

For each customer segment, understand their current pains, gains,
needs, wants, beliefs and so on.

Understand and observe what, why and where they buy the products and so on.

A detailed explanation will give a detailed customer profile.
