

5. Industry Value Chain

|                            |                                                                                                                                               |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Infrastructure      | Production Site Maintenance,Production Site Audit, Refer TruckNetwork Management                                                      |
| HRM                 | Product Development Scientists,Sales Representatives, MarketingProfessionals, CompensationStructuring                             |
| R&amp;D             | New Product Development,Approvals to Produce (FSSAI),Focus on increasing Shelf Life                                                   |
| Procurement         | Through farmers, Running VillageLevel Milk Collection Centres,Agents, Farmer CommunityBuilding, Farmer RelationshipManagement |
| Inbound Logistics   | Bulk Milk Coolers, Large MilkChilling Centres, TransportationNetwork to transport Raw Milk                                            |
| Operations          | Milk Filtering, Milk Segregation,Packaging Raw Milk, Conversion toValue-added Products, Conversionto SMP (surplus)                |
| Outbound Logistics  | Transportation Network                                                                                                                        |
| Marketing and Sales | Dealer Network Management,Retailer Network Management,Brand Building Activities,Advertisements, Sales Reps, ReachExpansion    |
| Service             | Customer feedback, Retail feedback                                                                                                            |

(These are the key activities that need to be done by anyone who wishes to start a business in the dairy industry.)