

Introduction

9- Point Business Circuit

The 9- Point Business Circuit is a framework to analyze any given business in any given industry.

The remaining factors on the 9-Point Business Circuit are related to firm-specific factors.

Not all industries provide similar opportunities for profitability. Some industries provide better scenarios for sustained profitability than others. Similarly, not all businesses within an industry earn similar profitability. This difference could be due to differences in business model, competitive positioning, approach by the management, or a combination of these factors. We will focus on the industry specific factors identified above.
