

work in India?

Once the customer profile is known, it has been established what the customer wants. This should then be compared with what is being offered to the customer. The features of the product and service that reduce pain or create gain must be understood to comprehend the product - customer fit.

Value Proposition

Pains Relievers

Moderate costs (neither too expensive, nor too cheap)

Standardised teaching practices

Individual students, no batches

Personalised performance based practice given

Complete flexibility in timing

Regular performance reviews

Available over internet. No travel is needed.

Gains Required

Quality courses, created and curated by experts

One on one attention given (personalised chats and calls arranged)

Performance based practice given

Weekly and monthly performance reviews given

Parent's can continuously keep a track a child's progress