

■ CYBER ATTACK

After X outage hacker group claims cyberattack, Musk hints at coordinated nation-level attack

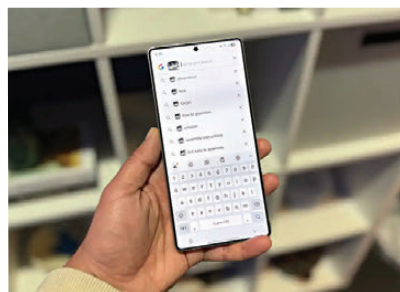

Elon Musk's social media platform X (formerly Twitter) experienced two major outages in March, leaving users across the world frustrated. As the platform struggled to restore services, Musk revealed that X had been hit by a "massive cyberattack." He suggested that the attack was well-coordinated and could have been carried out by either a large, coordinated group or a country. The first outage began at around 3:30 PM, with over 2,500 users reporting issues on Downt detector, a website that tracks online service disruptions. Users complained about website crashes, app failures, and connection problems. Just a few hours later, at 7:30 PM, another outage hit the platform, though this time with fewer reports. <https://tinyurl.com/yxwrf9ru>

■ SMARTPHONE OS

Samsung One UI 7 update and all you need to know

Samsung has officially confirmed its Android 15-based One UI 7 update release date. In an official blog, the company has confirmed that the Galaxy S24 series, Galaxy Z Fold 6 and Galaxy Z Flip 6 devices will get the One UI 7 update on April 7. While this is good news for the last generation flagship users, we now have more clarity for the old Galaxy S-series phone users. According to the report citing the press release from Samsung Singapore, the One UI 7 update will further be rolled out to the older S series phones, foldables and tablets. The list includes the Galaxy S23, S22, and S21 series, including the standard, plus, and ultra variants. Additionally, the Android 15 based One UI 7 feature will be available for the Galaxy S23 FE and S21 FE as well. Speaking of the foldables, the One UI 7 update will be available for the Galaxy Z Fold 3 and Z Flip 3, Galaxy Z Fold 4, Z Flip 4, Z Fold 5, and Z Flip 5. In terms of tablet, Samsung Galaxy Tab S10, Tab S9 and Tab S8 series will get the One UI 7 update. <https://tinyurl.com/3xd2xstk>

Noida retired banker duped of Rs 3.15 crore in cyber fraud

A retired 78-year-old banking official from Noida fell victim to a digital arrest scam losing over Rs 3.15 crore in 15 days. The cyber fraud began on Feb 25 when the victim received a video call from someone claiming to be a TRAI official. <https://tinyurl.com/3msynrsz>

You can get Apple products delivered in under 10 minutes via Zepto

Zepto users will now be able to get their hands on the Apple products at select locations in India. This comes after Zepto announced partnership with Apple. <https://tinyurl.com/yc79dts7>

Starlink in India: Launch, plans, price, speed, and everything we know so far

Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel have already announced a partnership with Elon Musk's SpaceX to bring the much-anticipated Starlink satellite internet connectivity to India. <https://tinyurl.com/2w5p63t6>