

Klansmen in disguise

Two Alabama members of the original Ku Klux Klan pose for a photograph in 1868, a year before Forrest disbanded it because of pressure from the government. The Klan was re-founded in the wake of World War I.