

John Brown's last moments

As his legend grew, Brown's "martyrdom" was wildly romanticized by writers and artists. This apocryphal scene of Brown kissing a Black baby on his way to the scaffold was painted in 1882-84 by Thomas Hovenden.