

Flag of truce

This linen dish towel was pressed into service as a flag of truce, when Lee sent General James Longstreet to deliver his reply to Grant's invitation to surrender.