

AUGUST

With Congress out of session, President Johnson suspends Secretary of War Edwin Stanton, a Radical Republican, from office. This is contrary to the Tenure of Office Act, which Johnson believes to be unconstitutional.

Edwin Stanton