

1870

FEBRUARY

The Fifteenth Amendment is ratified, but Black people are still widely denied the right to vote by such means as tax, property, or literacy tests. Mississippi is readmitted to the Union.

MAY

Congress passes a "Ku Klux Klan" or Enforcement Act in an attempt to limit intimidation of prospective Black voters.

JULY

Georgia is readmitted to the Union. All former Rebel states have now been readmitted.

DECEMBER

Congress convenes with representatives from all states present for the first time since 1860.
