

The Mason-Dixon Line

This line symbolizes the North-South divide. It dates back to the 1760s, when surveyors Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon resolved disputes between Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware and established their borders.