

Calling for secession

With the news of Lincoln's election, huge crowds gathered in Savannah's Johnson Square, calling for a state secession convention. South Carolina, the first to secede, left the Union on December 20, 1860.