

Union Brigadier General McDowell

McDowell was an able military administrator who was less suited to senior combat command. He served in more junior roles after Bull Run but was dismissed in 1862.