

1841-45

JANUARY 1842

Supreme Court rules it unconstitutional to block Fugitive Slave Act.

NOVEMBER 1844

James K. Polk narrowly beats Henry Clay in presidential election. Polk favors annexation of Texas and Western expansion.

Henry Clay presidential campaign ribbon

JULY 1845

A Texas convention accepts annexation to the United States, despite opposition. Texas is formally admitted to the Union in December.