

Union failure

The Battle of Antietam, fought at Sharpsburg on September 17, is the costliest single day's fighting in the history of the United States. Union general George McClellan—here consulting with Lincoln—fails to prevent Lee's Confederates from withdrawing from Maryland.